

AUSPICIOUS FLAME / IRON BEAK

You were once a smith, turning a blind eye to the source of the profits you made outfitting Lintha pirates, until they kidnapped your children to ensure compliance, and in a moment of rage you Exalted, slaying their emissary with a red-hot blade and turning into a giant seagull to track down their ship and wipe out the abductors. Now you lead a double life as the dread Iron Beak, hunting down bandits and marauders of all sort.

DISTINCTIONS

MY CHILDREN

Though fully grown with children of their own, they remain everything to you, and the impetus that drove your Exaltation.

SEA & STEEL

You often don't get people. The depths of the ocean, the cold edge of a blade, the fury of a storm, the fire of a forge, those make sense. They're soothing.

MAKE, DO NOT TAKE

We all bear a responsibility to add to the world, to make and to share with others. Those who only take and do not give are a plague.

IF NOT ME, THEN WHO

Accept accountability. Take action. Do not look to others to solve problems that you see.

LIMIT BREAK

RED RAGE OF TEARS When I see innocents suffering through no fault of their own, I feel furious and destroy those who would torment them.
